Sarah Mason is a Senior Land Manager for an award-winning house builder based in the south-east, who take enormous pride in the legacy schemes that they create for their buyers and registered provider partners. She is responsible for the acquisition of land involving the financial and legal delivery for the business.

Prior to joining the private house builder sector, Sarah helped advance a registered provider's ambitious homes program involving the acquisition of not only affordable tenures but private rent and sale for cross subsidy.

Sarah spent her earlier career as a development-chartered surveyor having qualified aged 24 whilst at Cluttons. Throughout her career at Smiths-gore and Savills as an Associate Director, Sarah advised her public and private sector clients on multi million pound secured lending valuations and viability assessments.

After 5 years, Sarah continues in her role as a main board Trustee for the Royal British Legion Industries in Aylesford, involving advising on the future of their mixed-use property and land portfolio.
