Mr Paul Clark

Co-Founder

Stories

Paul Clark is a co-founder of Stories, a socially responsible property development company and B-Corp. Stories focusses on working with long term investors and landowners, seeking to exceed market norms for the delivery of social and environmental value. Stories is both a principal developer and consultant and is working with the likes of St Mungo's, Mansfield College, The Crown Estate and Nottingham City Council. In 2023 Stories announced a £100m joint venture with Aviva Capital Partners to unlock the delivery of purposeful development projects across the UK. Paul is a chartered Town Planner (MRTPI) and a chartered Surveyor (MRICS). He is a Fellow of the Royal Geographical Society (FRGS) and a Fellow of the Royal Asiatic Society (FRAS). Paul has been previously recognised as one of the property industry's "Hot 100" and "40 under 40". Paul graduated from Cambridge in 2003 with an MPhil in Land Economy.
